

EnerTech's Bill Kingsley and the 6th Annual CLEAN-tech Investor Summit, January 20-21, 2010

EnerTech Capital is pleased to announce that Bill Kingsley oversaw the creation of the panel on Smart Grid at the upcoming IBF Investor Summit in Palm Springs, January 21-22. The panel features moderator Judith Warrick of Morgan Stanley, Ray Gogel, President & COO of Current Group (and former chief architect of Excel Energy's smart grid city), Scott Lang, CEO of Silver Spring Networks, Adrian Tuck, CEO of Tendril, Guido Jouret, CTO – Emerging Technologies Group of Cisco Systems and Anne Pramaggiore, President and CEO of Exelon's Com Ed group.

This marks Bill and EnerTech's sixth year of participation as an advisor and leader of the IBF Cleantech Conference and our 15th year as an investor in the most innovative companies in the Smart Grid arena. Our recent successes in Intellon (ITLN), Atheros (ATHR), Converge (COMV) and Enerwise, and our ongoing commitment to the space with investments in Current Group (www.currentgroup.com) and Tangent Energy Solutions (www.tangentenergy.com) reflect our vision of a smarter, more reliable, more efficient, more profitable grid.

For more information or to contact Bill in advance of the conference, please call (484) 539-1860.